1. 밑줄 친 부분이 다음 글에서 의미하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은?

Gold plating in the project means needlessly enhancing the expected results, namely, adding characteristics that are costly, not required, and that have low added value with respect to the targets — in other words, giving more with no real justification other than to demonstrate one's own talent. Gold plating is especially interesting for project team members, as it is typical of projects with a marked professional component — in other words, projects that involve specialists with proven experience and extensive professional autonomy. In these environments specialists often see the project as an opportunity to test and enrich their skill sets. There is therefore a strong temptation, in all good faith, to engage in gold plating, namely, to achieve more or higher-quality work that gratifies the professional but does not add value to the client's requests, and at the same time removes valuable resources from the project. As the saying goes, "The best is the enemy of the good."

- ① Pursuing perfection at work causes conflicts among team members.
- ② Raising work quality only to prove oneself is not desirable.
- ③ Inviting overqualified specialists to a project leads to bad ends.
- ④ Responding to the changing needs of clients is unnecessary.
- ⑤ Acquiring a range of skills for a project does not ensure success.

2. 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

The approach, joint cognitive systems, treats a robot as part of a human-machine team where the intelligence is synergistic, arising from the contributions of each agent. The team consists of at least one robot and one human and is often called a mixed team because it is a mixture of human and robot agents. Self-driving cars, where a person turns on and off the driving, is an example of a joint cognitive system. Entertainment robots are examples of mixed teams as are robots for telecommuting. The design process concentrates on how the agents will cooperate and coordinate with each other to accomplish the team goals. Rather than treating robots as peer agents with their own completely independent agenda, joint cognitive systems approaches treat robots as helpers such as service animals or sheep dogs. In joint cognitive system designs, artificial intelligence is used along with human-robot interaction principles to create robots that can be intelligent enough to be good team members.

While some people brag about never farting, the truth is that everyone does it. There is a wide range of ① what is considered normal and healthy. The average person produces about 705 milliliters of gas in 24 hours. To determine these numbers, scientists recruited and asked 75 healthy adults to eat half of a can of beans, and then ② answered a questionnaire on how often and how much gas they farted out. It was found that men and women both fart about eight times a day, although ③ passing gas up to 20 times a day is normal. Large farts were most common in the hour after meals, and the subjects released half as much gas while sleeping as they ④ did while awake. Some illnesses can make you pass gas more than normal. Health conditions such as food poisoning ⑤ have increased gas as a common symptom. If you feel like you are farting more than usual, and have other symptoms, give your doctor a call to rule out other causes of gas.

Gaining an audience for your writing involves not just finding a voice but ensuring that voice resonates with your intended readers. Entrepreneurs understand the importance of building a brand that makes them memorable and distinct from their competitors, drawing customers to their products or services. They achieve this by ①pinpointing their target audience, crafting a unique value proposition, and shaping a recognizable identity. While scholars might initially find these entrepreneurial concepts ②alien, they actually engage in similar practices when they set themselves apart in their academic writing. Consider the typical literature review and motivation section of a scholarly article — the aim is to highlight ③gaps in existing research and position oneself as the one who will address these overlooked areas. The challenge, as Labaree suggests, is not just in developing innovative ideas but in ④cultivating a distinctive voice that makes readers think, "Ah, this sounds like the author." It's about balancing the expression of your ideas with the development of a unique voice that leaves a ⑤temporary impression on your audience.

More than just having territories, animals also partition them. And this insight turned out to be particularly useful for zoo husbandry. An animal's territory has an internal arrangement that Heini Hediger compared to the inside of a person's house. Most of us assign separate functions to separate rooms, but even if you look at a one-room house you will find the same internal specialization. In a cabin or a mud hut, or even a Mesolithic cave from 30,000 years ago, this part is for cooking, that part is for sleeping; this part is for making tools and weaving, that part is for waste. We keep _____. To a varying extent, other animals do the same. A part of an animal's territory is for eating, a part for sleeping, a part for swimming or wallowing, a part may be set aside for waste, depending on the species of animal.

- ① an interest in close neighbors
- ② a neat functional organization
- ③ a stock of emergency supplies
- ④ a distance from potential rivals
- ⑤ a strictly observed daily routine

People have always needed to eat, and they always will. Rising emphasis on self-expression values does not put an end to material desires. But prevailing economic orientations are gradually being reshaped. People who work in the knowledge sector continue to seek high salaries, but they place equal or greater emphasis on doing stimulating work and being able to follow their own time schedules. Consumption is becoming progressively less determined by the need for sustenance and the practical use of the goods consumed. People still eat, but a growing component of food's value is determined by its aspects. People pay a premium to eat exotic cuisines that provide an interesting experience or that symbolize a distinctive life-style. The publics of postindustrial societies place growing emphasis on "political consumerism," such as boycotting goods whose production violates ecological or ethical standards. Consumption is less and less a matter of sustenance and more and more a question of life-style — and choice.

- ① quantitative
- ② nonmaterial
- ③ nutritional
- ④ invariable
- ⑤ economic

지문에서 'gold plating'은 자신의 재능을 과시하기 위해 불필요하고 비용이 많이 들며 부가가치가 낮은 특성을 추가하는 행위로 정의된다. 이는 전문가를 만족시킬 뿐 고객의 요구에 가치를 더하지 않는다고 설명한다. 'The best is the enemy of the good'(최고는 좋음의 적)라는 말은 이러한 맥락에서, 완벽(the best)을 추구하다가 단순히 좋은(good) 결과를 망치는 상황, 즉 자기 만족을 위해 불필요하게 품질을 높이는 것은 바람직하지 않다는 의미로 사용되었다.

지문은 'joint cognitive systems'라는 접근법을 설명하며, 로봇을 인간과 기계 팀의 일부로 취급한다고 말한다. 'human-machine team', 'synergistic', 'cooperate and coordinate' 등의 표현을 통해 인간과 기계가 협력하여 시너지를 내는 것을 강조하고 있다. 따라서 '함께하면 더 좋다: 인간과 기계의 협업'을 의미하는 ①번이 글의 제목으로 가장 적절하다.

②번은 asked와 병렬 구조를 이루어야 한다. '과학자들이 75명의 건강한 성인을 모집하여 콩을 먹고 설문지에 답하도록 요청했다'는 의미가 되어야 한다. recruited and asked A to eat ~ and (to) answer~ 의 구조이므로 동사원형 answer가 와야 한다. answered는 과거형 동사이므로 병렬 구조에 맞지 않다. ① what은 선행사를 포함하는 관계대명사로, of의 목적어 역할을 한다. ③ passing gas는 문장의 주어 역할을 하는 동명사구이다. ④ did는 앞선 동사 released를 대신하는 대동사이다. ⑤ have는 복수 주어 Health conditions에 대한 복수 동사이다.

4. [정답] ⑤

이 글은 독자에게 기억에 남는(memorable) 독특한 목소리를 만드는 것의 중요성을 강조한다. 마지막 문장은 독자에게 독특한 목소리로 인상을 남기는 것에 대해 이야기하고 있다. 이러한 맥락에서 '일시적인(temporary)' 인상이 아니라 '지속적인(lasting)' 또는 '잊을 수 없는(unforgettable)' 인상을 남겨야 하므로 'temporary'는 문맥상 적절하지 않다.

본문은 동물들도 자신의 영역을 분할하며, 이를 사람의 집에 비유한다. 사람이 집의 방마다 다른 기능을 부여하듯('assign separate functions to separate rooms'), 원룸 주택이나 동굴에서도 요리, 수면, 도구 제작, 폐기물 처리 공간이 나뉘어 있다고 설명한다. 동물들도 마찬가지로 먹는 곳, 자는 곳 등을 구분한다. 이는 우리가 '깔끔한 기능적 조직(a neat functional organization)'을 유지한다는 것을 보여준다.

6. [정답] ②

글은 소비가 생존(sustenance)이나 실용적 사용(practical use)과 같은 물질적 필요보다는, 흥미로운 경험, 독특한 생활 방식의 상징, 윤리적 기준 등과 같은 가치에 의해 점점 더 결정된다고 설명합니다. 따라서 음식의 가치 또한 이러한 '비물질적인(nonmaterial)' 측면에 의해 결정되는 비중이 커지고 있음을 추론할 수 있습니다.
