Impressionist paintings are probably most popular; it is an easily understood art which does not ask the viewer ① to work hard to understand the imagery. Impressionism is 'comfortable' to look at, with its summer scenes and bright colours ② appealing to the eye. It is important to remember, however, that this new way of painting was challenging to its public not only in the way that it was made but also in ③ that was shown. They had never seen ④ such 'informal' paintings before. The edge of the canvas cut off the scene in an arbitrary way, as if snapped with a camera. The subject matter included modernization of the landscape; railways and factories. Never before had these subjects been considered ⑤ appropriate for artists

Greg felt like a failure if he didn't receive every single point on every single assignment. A grade of 95 left him ① asking, "How did I fail to achieve 100?" Greg realized that his drive for perfectionism was putting him into a state of constant stress. He decided ② to work on stress management. He came up with the creative idea of ③ posting notes everywhere with the simple message, "92 is still an A." Gradually, these simple reminder notes allowed Greg to have a different point of view and ④ realized that he didn't have to be perfect at everything. He still could earn an "A" in class, but with ⑤ much less pressure.

My dad worked very late hours as a musician until about three in the morning so he slept late on weekends. As a result, we didn't have much of a relationship when I was young other than him constantly nagging me to take care of chores like mowing the lawn and cutting the hedges, ① which I hated. He was a responsible man ② dealing with an irresponsible kid. Memories of how we interacted ③ seems funny to me today. For example, one time he told me to cut the grass and I decided ④ to do just the front yard and postpone doing the back, but then it rained for a couple days and the backyard grass became so high I had to cut it with a sickle. That took so long ⑤ that by the time I was finished, the front yard was too high to mow, and so on.
