In some cases two species are so dependent upon each other ① that if one becomes extinct, the other will as well. This nearly happened with trees that ② relied on the now-extinct Dodo birds. They once roamed Mauritius, a tropical island ③ situating in the Indian Ocean. However, Dodo birds became extinct during the late 19th century. They were overhunted by humans and other animals. After they ④ disappeared, the Calvaria Tree soon stopped sprouting seeds. Scientists finally concluded that, for the seeds of the Calvaria Tree ⑤ to sprout, they needed to first be digested by the Dodo bird.

While reflecting on the needs of organizations, leaders, and families today, we realize that one of the unique characteristics ① is inclusivity. Why? Because inclusivity supports ② what everyone ultimately wants from their relationships: collaboration. Yet the majority of leaders, organizations, and families are still using the language of the old paradigm in which one person — typically the oldest, most educated, and/or wealthiest — makes all the decisions, and their decisions rule with little discussion or inclusion of others, ③ resulting in exclusivity. Today, this person could be a director, CEO, or other senior leader of an organization. There is no need for others to present their ideas because they are considered ④ inadequate. Yet research shows that exclusivity in problem solving, even with a genius, is not as effective as inclusivity, ⑤ which everyone's ideas are heard and a solution is developed through collaboration.

While some people brag about never farting, the truth is that everyone does it. There is a wide range of ① what is considered normal and healthy. The average person produces about 705 milliliters of gas in 24 hours. To determine these numbers, scientists recruited and asked 75 healthy adults to eat half of a can of beans, and then ② answered a questionnaire on how often and how much gas they farted out. It was found that men and women both fart about eight times a day, although ③ passing gas up to 20 times a day is normal. Large farts were most common in the hour after meals, and the subjects released half as much gas while sleeping as they ④ did while awake. Some illnesses can make you pass gas more than normal. Health conditions such as food poisoning ⑤ have increased gas as a common symptom. If you feel like you are farting more than usual, and have other symptoms, give your doctor a call to rule out other causes of gas.

⑤번에서 관계대명사 which 뒤에는 'everyone's ideas are heard and a solution is developed through collaboration'라는 완전한 문장이 이어지고 있습니다. which는 불완전한 문장을 이끌어야 하므로 어법상 틀립니다. 선행사 'inclusivity'(포용성)를 수식하며 '포용성 안에서' 모든 사람의 아이디어가 들린다는 의미이므로, 관계부사 'where' 또는 'in which'가 와야 합니다.

3. [정답] ②

②번은 asked와 병렬 구조를 이루어야 한다. '과학자들이 75명의 건강한 성인을 모집하여 콩을 먹고 설문지에 답하도록 요청했다'는 의미가 되어야 한다. recruited and asked A to eat ~ and (to) answer~ 의 구조이므로 동사원형 answer가 와야 한다. answered는 과거형 동사이므로 병렬 구조에 맞지 않다. ① what은 선행사를 포함하는 관계대명사로, of의 목적어 역할을 한다. ③ passing gas는 문장의 주어 역할을 하는 동명사구이다. ④ did는 앞선 동사 released를 대신하는 대동사이다. ⑤ have는 복수 주어 Health conditions에 대한 복수 동사이다.
