How you focus your attention plays a critical role in how you deal with stress. Scattered attention harms your ability to let go of stress, because even though your attention is scattered, it is narrowly focused, for you are able to fixate only on the stressful parts of your experience. When your attentional spotlight is widened, you can more easily let go of stress. You can put in perspective many more aspects of any situation and not get locked into one part that ties you down to superficial and anxiety-provoking levels of attention. A narrow focus heightens the stress level of each experience, but a widened focus turns down the stress level because you're better able to put each situation into a broader perspective. One anxiety-provoking detail is less important than the bigger picture. It's like transforming yourself into a nonstick frying pan. You can still fry an egg, but the egg won't stick to the pan.

- ① never being confronted with any stressful experiences in daily life
- ② broadening one's perspective to identify the cause of stress
- ③ rarely confining one's attention to positive aspects of an experience
- ④ having a larger view of an experience beyond its stressful aspects
- ⑤ taking stress into account as the source of developing a wide view

2. 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

Before the web, newspaper archives were largely the musty domain of professional researchers and journalism students. Journalism was, by definition, current. The general accessibility of archives has greatly extended the shelf life of journalism, with older stories now regularly cited to provide context for more current ones. With regard to how meaning is made of complex issues encountered in the news, this departure can be understood as a readiness by online news consumers to engage with the underlying issues and contexts of the news that was not apparent in, or even possible for, print consumers. One of the emergent qualities of online news, determined in part by the depth of readily accessible online archives, seems to be the possibility of understanding news stories as the manifest outcomes of larger economic, social and cultural issues rather than short-lived and unconnected media spectacles.

- ① Web-based Journalism: Lasting Longer and Contextually Wider
- ② With the Latest Content, Online News Beats Daily Newspapers!
- ③ How Online Media Journalists Reveal Hidden Stories Behind News
- ④ Let's Begin a Journey to the Past with Printed Newspapers!
- ⑤ Present and Future of Journalism in the Web World

3. (A), (B), (C)의 각 네모 안에서 어법에 맞는 표현으로 가장 적절한 것은? (3점)

The nonliving participates in communication. In the communication, the nonliving plays an important role in both message and response. Take satellites, unmanned space stations, or planetary probes. Ground controllers can signal them to change their orbit day in and day out, to collect rocks hundreds of million kilometers away, or (A) destroy / to destroy themselves. More common examples include TV remote controls and answering machines. And none of these conversations need to be one-way. Machines can maintain a buildings environment: ventilation, heating, cooling, humidity, lighting, and so forth. Although (B) being / having created by humans, they do so without human intervention, through a conversation between thermostats, motion detectors, hygrometers, and computers, to name a few. In sum, the nonliving is centrally involved in (C) what / which we call conversations, not only as one of the countless links between message and response, but also as a partner in conversation.

- ① destroy - being - what
- ② destroy - having - what
- ③ to destroy - being - what
- ④ to destroy - having - which
- ⑤ to destroy - being - which

Everywhere we turn we hear about almighty "cyberspace"! The hype promises that we will leave our boring lives, put on goggles and body suits, and enter some metallic, three-dimensional, multimedia otherworld. When the Industrial Revolution arrived with its great innovation, the motor, we didn't leave our world to go to some ①remote motorspace! On the contrary, we brought the motors into our lives, as automobiles, refrigerators, drill presses, and pencil sharpeners. This ②absorption has been so complete that we refer to all these tools with names that declare their usage, not their "motoriness." These innovations led to a major socioeconomic movement precisely because they entered and ③affected profoundly our everyday lives. People have not changed fundamentally in thousands of years. Technology changes constantly. It's the one that must ④adapt to us. That's exactly what will happen with information technology and its devices under human-centric computing. The longer we continue to believe that computers will take us to a magical new world, the longer we will ⑤maintain their natural fusion with our lives, the hallmark of every major movement that aspires to be called a socioeconomic revolution.

Kant was a strong defender of the rule of law as the ultimate guarantee, not only of security and peace, but also of freedom. He believed that human societies were moving towards more rational forms regulated by effective and binding legal frameworks because only such frameworks enabled people to live in harmony, to prosper and to co-operate. However, his belief in inevitable progress was not based on an optimistic or high-minded view of human nature. On the contrary, it comes close to Hobbes's outlook: man's violent and conflict-prone nature makes it necessary to establish and maintain an effective legal framework in order to secure peace. We cannot count on people's benevolence or goodwill, but even 'a nation of devils' can live in harmony in a legal system that binds every citizen equally. Ideally, the law is the embodiment of those political principles that all rational beings would freely choose. If such laws forbid them to do something that they would not rationally choose to do anyway, then the law cannot be ____.

- ① regarded as reasonably confining human liberty
- ② viewed as a strong defender of the justice system
- ③ understood as a restraint on their freedom
- ④ enforced effectively to suppress their evil nature
- ⑤ accepted within the assumption of ideal legal frameworks

Giving clients sufficient opportunity to react to your designs while in progress is a key to professional success. Similarly, involving prospective building users as well as clients is even more valuable in the long run. Say your client is a large corporation, such as a health care provider. While the hospital administration may serve as your client, no doubt the perspectives of administration personnel will differ significantly from those of doctors, interns, residents, nurses, and other medical staff who use the building regularly. In addition, the experiences of patients and visitors who use the building irregularly, often as a result of life-threatening emergencies, are altogether different as well. Understanding how each type of user experiences the current medical environment as well as how each reacts to your prospective designs inevitably produces a better building. People are likely to be more satisfied with a new building or addition if they _____. For a large institution, this can translate into increased productivity on the job, reduced absenteeism, less turnover, and lower costs.

- ① have been engaged in multiple design training sessions
- ② are given the opportunity to draft a new design
- ③ have established trust with the building designers
- ④ have been consulted in the design process
- ⑤ share their perspectives on the building with each other

이 글은 주의를 좁게 집중하면 스트레스에 집착하게 되고, 주의를 넓히면 스트레스에서 벗어날 수 있다고 설명합니다. 'nonstick frying pan'은 계란(스트레스 유발 사건)을 부치더라도 팬(자신)에 달라붙지 않는 상태를 비유합니다. 이는 스트레스 받는 경험의 특정 부분에 얽매이지 않고, 더 넓은 관점(a broader perspective), 즉 'the bigger picture'를 통해 스트레스 요소를 넘어 경험 전체를 바라보는 능력을 의미합니다.

웹 이전의 저널리즘과 웹 기반 저널리즘을 비교하며, 웹 덕분에 기사의 '수명(shelf life)'이 길어지고 (Lasting Longer), 과거 기사를 통해 현재 사건의 '맥락(context)'을 더 깊이 이해할 수 있게 되었다 (Contextually Wider)는 점을 핵심 내용으로 다루고 있다.

(A) 'signal them to change ~, to collect ~, or to destroy ~'의 구조로 to부정사들이 병렬로 연결되어야 한다. 따라서 to destroy가 맞다. (B) 분사구문에서 주절의 시제(do)와 같은 시점을 나타내므로 단순형 분사구문이 필요하다. '인간에 의해 만들어졌음에도 불구하고'라는 수동의 의미이므로 (being) created가 되어야 한다. 따라서 being이 적절하다. having created는 주절보다 한 시제 앞선 완료 분사구문에서 사용된다. (C) 'what we call conversations'는 '우리가 대화라고 부르는 것'이라는 의미로, 선행사를 포함하고 call의 목적어 역할을 하는 관계대명사 what이 적절하다. which는 선행사가 있어야 한다.

4. [정답] ⑤

필자는 기술이 우리 삶에 자연스럽게 융합되어야 진정한 사회경제적 혁명을 이끌 수 있다고 주장한다. 마지막 문장은 '컴퓨터가 우리를 마법 같은 신세계로 데려갈 것이라고 계속 믿는다면, 우리 삶의 자연스러운 융합을 더 오래 유지할 것이다'라는 의미가 된다. 이는 논리적 모순이다. 컴퓨터가 별개의 세계로 우리를 데려간다고 믿는 것은 우리 삶의 융합을 '지연시키거나(delay)' '방해하는(hinder)' 것이므로, '유지하다(maintain)'는 어휘는 문맥상 적절하지 않다.

5. [정답] ③

칸트에게 법은 모든 이성적 존재가 자유롭게 선택할 원칙의 구현체이다. 만약 어떤 법이 '어차피 이성적으로 선택하지 않을 행동'을 금지한다면, 그 법은 실질적으로 개인의 자유를 침해하는 것이 아니다. 즉, 합리적인 인간이 스스로 하지 않을 일을 법으로 막는다고 해서 그것이 자유에 대한 제약으로 여겨질 수는 없다는 것이다. 따라서 빈칸에는 '그들의 자유에 대한 제약으로 이해될 수 없다(understood as a restraint on their freedom)'가 가장 적절하다.

이 글은 건물 설계 과정에서 고객뿐만 아니라 의사, 간호사, 환자 등 실제 건물 사용자를 참여시키는 것 (involving prospective building users)의 중요성을 강조한다. 그들의 경험과 반응을 이해하는 것이 더 나은 건물을 만든다고 하였으므로, 사람들은 '설계 과정에서 자문을 받았다면(have been consulted in the design process)' 새로운 건물에 더 만족할 가능성이 높다.
