Dear Teachers, We are pleased to introduce our company's recently launched emergency training program for teachers. Our CPR class is the most common option for a school. We make it easy for teachers to participate in CPR training at a time to suit your school's schedule. Our class offers you full life-saving expertise that you can then use to deliver vital support in emergencies. With the proper training, you will be able to perform CPR quickly and effectively and improve a sufferer's chances of survival. To learn more about our CPR course offerings, please visit our website at www.thebestCPRedu.com.

The purpose of class discussions is to encourage you to be an active participant, not a passive recorder. Much of the emphasis in a discussion is on getting students involved in thinking, reacting, and responding. These are important intellectual activities in the learning process, for through them you are supposed to discover and express your opinions. Writing is an invaluable tool for accomplishing these tasks. Unfortunately, too many times, when class discussion begins, pens and pencils go down. Admittedly, it is considerably more difficult to take notes from discussions than from lectures, for, unlike lectures, discussions tend to be disorganized and difficult to follow. Also, students usually don't know how much of what other students are saying is important. And if you are an active participant, it is not easy to take notes and formulate what you want to say. But note taking in discussions is not only manageable, it is also important. Note taking helps to keep you active and alert; it allows you to impose some organization on the discussion; and it can prepare you to speak.

- ① reasons to standardize procedures for class discussions
- ② strategies to improve note-taking skills for public speaking
- ③ significance of note taking for active engagement in discussion
- ④ effectiveness of summarizing and reviewing notes after class
- ⑤ benefits of brainstorming to generate ideas for writing tasks

People are correct when they feel that the written poetry of literate societies and the oral poetry of non-literate ones differ considerably from the everyday language spoken in the community. Listeners not only accept the (a) strange use of words, rearrangement of word order, assonance, alliteration, rhythm, rhyme, compression of thought, and so on they actually expect to find these things in poetry and they are disappointed when poetry does not sound "poetic." But those who regard poetry as a (b) different category of language altogether are deaf to the true achievements of the poet. Rather, the poet artfully manipulates the same raw materials of his language as are used in everyday speech; his skill is to find new possibilities in the resources already in the language. In much the same way that people living at the seashore become so accustomed to the sound of waves that they no longer hear it, most of us have become (c) sensitive to the flood tide of words, millions of them every day, that hit our eardrums. One function of poetry is to depict the world with a (d) fresh perception to make it strange so that we will listen to language once again. But the successful poet never departs so far into the strange world of language that none of his listeners can (e) follow him. He still remains the communicator, the man of speech.

What makes practicing retrieval so much better than review? One answer comes from the psychologist R. A. Bjork's concept of desirable difficulty. More difficult retrieval ①leads to better learning, provided the act of retrieval is itself successful. Free recall tests, in which students need to recall as much as they can remember without prompting, tend to result in better retention than cued recall tests, in which students ②give hints about what they need to remember. Cued recall tests, in turn, are better than recognition tests, such as multiple-choice answers, ③where the correct answer needs to be recognized but not generated. Giving someone a test immediately after they learn something improves retention less than giving them a slight delay, long enough so that answers aren't in mind when they need ④them. Difficulty, far from being a barrier to ⑤making retrieval work, may be part of the reason it does so.

5. 다음 글의 내용을 한 문장으로 요약하고자 한다. 빈칸 (A), (B)에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

The weakness of local networks lies in their self-containment, for they lack input as well as outreach. In a classic study of urban politics, Herbert Gans found that neighborhoods with the highest levels of solidarity often were unable to block unfavorable policies and programs for lack of ties to possible allies elsewhere in the city. It was for this reason that Gans referred to them as "urban villagers." As the opposite of local networks, cosmopolitan networks offer little solidarity and have little capacity to comfort and sustain members. But members benefit from a constant flow of new information and from the great reach of their influence, even if it tends to be somewhat lacking in strength. Local networks tend to be small. In contrast, cosmopolitan networks can be huge. Thus, while the "urban villagers" lacked ties even to their local city government, cosmopolitan network ties often lead into the White House.

Unlike the "urban villagers," whose (A) ties to the outside restrict them within their boundaries, cosmopolitan networks (B) from exposure to new information and a more extensive range of relationships.

글의 첫 부분에서 교사를 위한 'emergency training program'과 'CPR class'를 소개하고, 마지막 부분에서 웹사이트 방문을 유도하는 것으로 보아, 교사들을 대상으로 하는 심폐 소생술 강좌를 홍보하기 위한 글임을 알 수 있다.

2. [정답] ③

이 글은 수업 토론에서 필기의 어려움을 인정하면서도, 필기가 적극적인 참여를 위해 '중요하다(important)'고 강조한다. 필기는 학생을 적극적이고 기민하게 유지시키고, 토론을 조직화하며, 발언을 준비시키는 데 도움을 준다고 설명한다. 따라서 글의 주제는 '토론에 적극적으로 참여하기 위한 필기의 중요성(significance of note taking for active engagement in discussion)'이다.

3. [정답] ①

[해설]

The central theme is that poetry takes the 'raw materials' of everyday language and 'manipulates' them to create a 'fresh perception' and 'make it strange,' thereby refreshing our experience of language itself. The title 'Make It New: How Poetry Refreshes Everyday Language' accurately encapsulates this core function.

4. [정답] ②

[해설]

②번 문장에서 'cued recall tests(단서 회상 시험)'는 학생들이 힌트를 '주는(give)' 시험이 아니라 힌트를 '받는(are given)' 시험이다. 주어인 'students'가 힌트를 주는 행위의 주체가 아니므로, 수동태인 'are given'으로 수정해야 문맥상 올바르다.

5. [정답] ④

본문은 지역 네트워크('urban villagers')가 높은 수준의 결속력(solidarity)을 가지지만 외부와의 연결(ties to possible allies)이 부족하여 고립된다고 설명한다. 이는 내부적으로 (A) '긴밀한(close)' 관계가 외부와의 단절을 가져온다는 의미다. 반면, 코스모폴리탄 네트워크는 새로운 정보의 흐름과 넓은 영향력으로부터 (B) '이익을 얻는다(benefit from)'고 명시되어 있다. 따라서 (A)에는 'close', (B)에는 'profit'이 들어가는 것이 가장 적절하다.
